PRIVACY

Under the Personal Information Act students are entitled to access their student file.

The student's personal information collected will only be used for the purpose for which it was originally collected or for a use consistent with that purpose, unless the student consents to other use.

TUITION FEE POLICY

FOUNDING PRINCIPLE OF FUNDING:

From its inception in 1931, the Seminary of Christ the King has followed the principle that no promising student is denied entrance because of insufficient funds. Eligible students, their families, and their sponsoring dioceses have the primary responsibility for bearing the cost of an individual's fees and expenses. If a promising student exhausts the financial resources available to him, the Seminary will assess whether it will provide financial support in view of his suitability to the priestly vocation (See Bursary Policy). Among the criteria used by the members of the board to evaluate the suitability of the student for continued priestly formation are his human qualities and academic performance as specified in the Program for Priestly Formation approved by the Conference of Canadian Catholic Bishops.

BURSARY POLICY:

The Seminary of Christ the King has a number of bursaries available for students who are unable to pay their student fees in full. Assistance is given to those students who demonstrate both merit and need. The Rector consults with the Seminary business office about cases of financial need and advises about amounts to be credited to the accounts of students.

Burses and Scholarships are awarded by the following criteria: financial need, vocational commitment, academic performance, and community service. Seminarians who have their boarding and tuition paid by their diocese will be not eligible. Applications will be reviewed by the Scholarship and Bursary Committee. Only seminarians who are awarded scholarships and burses will be notified.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR PAYMENT

The seminary accepts students in two different categories: those who are affiliated to a diocese or religious congregation as well as those who enter the academic program as independent students (not affiliated to a diocese or religious congregation).

Seminarians not affiliated with a diocese and pursuing an academic program in the Faculty of Arts are responsible for their seminary fees and personal expenses associated with their studies.

Seminarians beginning their studies in the Faculty of Theology are financially supported by the diocese or religious congregation which sponsors them. The seminary directly bills the ecclesial institution which sponsors the seminarian for tuition, room and board, student association fees and textbooks purchased from the Seminary Bookstore. The ecclesial institution (diocese or religious congregation) then pays the seminary the amount which it was billed.

Seminary fees are payable at the beginning of September and January respectively.

REFUND POLICY:

1. When a student leaves or is dismissed from the seminary during a school term, he will receive a refund on a proportional basis for tuition and room and board fees that he has paid.
2. Student association fees are not reimbursed.
3. Sponsoring dioceses or religious communities which paid the fees of a student will be refunded on a proportional basis in the case that the sponsored student leaves or is dismissed from the seminary

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS also fall under the same two categories above and may or may not be supported by a diocese or religious congregation.

STUDENT ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

1. I hereby acknowledge receipt of the school's "Directives for Arts and Theology Students", which contains information describing the spiritual life, community life, manners, studies and activities, and evaluation. The school "directives" is included as part of this enrollment agreement and I acknowledge that I have received an electronic copy of the same.
